

A Roaring Welcome to 2015!

PREVIEW

PÄDASTE
simple luxury

White, red, black, titted, faux, pauperised, nouveau riche, eccentric or just with pedigree. Tonight nobility re-enters the house to celebrate 95 years since last ruling the estate.

Welcome to an era where silent movies and burlesque decadence went hand in hand. A time when romance, desirable bachelorettes and hush-hush scandals were talk of town.

A night of opulence, intimate elegance and expectations...

New Years' Eve 2015 at Pädaste Manor

Chef Yves Le Lay composed a splendid 5-course menu, fitting the occasion. Fun and entertainment is provided throughout the evening.

"Born in Texas, living in Paris. Raised on a diet of 1920's jazz, vintage dresses and black & white movies!". Hailey Tuck will seduce us into the year 2015.

Hailey Tuck in "Sunday Morning"

Hailey Tuck (USA) has firmly established herself as a favourite on the underground Parisian scene with an authenticity originating from a childhood spent daydreaming to the soundtrack of Ella Fitzgerald and Billie Holiday and following the exploits of Judy Garland and the stars of the silver screen. Hailey starred early this summer at a wonderful Concert-Dinner at Pädaste during the Muhu Future Music Festival - Juu Jaab

At mid-night the crisp chill of the SnowScaped Estate invites for magnificent fireworks welcoming 2015, for the party then to continue around the grand piano into the small hours.

260 € per person inclusive of the 5-course New Years' dinner, aperitif and entertainment.
Beverages, wines and champagnes are not included.
Children under the age of 12 will dine separately - Please inquire, a special program is available for kids.

Dress Code - Black tie
Reservations required
For bookings contact info@padaste.ee